Car Runs Off Bridge; 21 Hurt in 29 Mishaps

Driver Escapes Fatal Injury in 60-Foot McKinley Bridge Fall

A westbound auto plunged 60 feet from the McKinley Bridge in Venice, injuring the driver, in one of a weekend series of 29 traffic crashes in the Quad-City area. Twenty-one persons were hurt in the mishaps. Two other persons were hurt in an accident involving four automobiles. Two children were among local injury victims.

A buckled seatbelt and a buckling wire fence helped a 49-year-old Granite Cityan survive a 60-foot auto plunge off the McKinley Bridge at 6:15 p.m. Friday.

William T. Cummings, 69, of 2919 Iowa street is in fair condition today at St. Elizabeth Hospital with a cut near the left eye, a cut on the back of the head, multiple abrasions and a laceration on the right arm. Gasoline from the car did not ignite but it drenched him and caused first-degree burns to the face, neck and chest.

He had just driven up the Venice approach to the bridge and had rounded the curve when his westbound car sideswiped the left side of the eastbound auto at Gerhart, Mass., 33, of 2326 Washington avenue. Cummings, a bricklayer, does not recall the exact circumstances of the collision, but Mass told police the Cummings car was traveling fast and veered into an eastbound lane.

The crash caused the 1960 two-door hardtop auto to test its top and hard way. The vehicle skidded 75 feet to the south and west and soared off the bridge, landing with a cut in a section of the metal bridge railing.

Top Collapses Fence
The auto plummeted almost straight down, landing on its nose, with its top partly collapsed. The car was surrounded by the Union Electric Co. power line.

With the left door of the car peeled open, Cummings was ejected from the seat by the attached belt and by the fence. Sam Hall, a Union Electric boiler operator, used a tarpaulin in an effort to shield the driver from the gasoline cascading down from the damaged tank.

Other rescuers from the power plant concluded the danger of fire was real, and began working to free Cummings after summoning police, an ambulance and a fire engine. Cummings brought a specially-designed saw in their emergency vehicle. The saw was cut close and the fence was pried back by hand to extricate him.

Fully Conscious
"He was fully conscious, and asked us if anyone was hurt on the bridge," Glen Young, High Ridge, Mo., Union Electric maintenance foreman, told the Press-Record at the scene. Young was sitting on a nearby wall jumped at Pace and pinned his arms.

Another young took Pace's wallet, containing $300, and a third took Mrs. Pace's purse, containing $13. No weapons were displayed, and the couple was not injured.

St. Louis police recovered the purse but did not locate the money. Suspects have been questioned.

Strongarming and robbery of a Venice couple who had just completed rent collections at a St. Louis apartment building, and the burglary of an apartment where $500 worth of loot was taken highlighted a series of area crimes during the weekend.

Two men also strongarmed a school teacher. Other crimes included thefts of articles ranging from a boy's ball glove to an undetermined quantity of drugs and cash from a drug store. Coin machines were broken and looted in two places.

Albert Pace, 47, and his wife, Ethel, of 1225 Klein street, Venice, were robbed of $312 in a strongarming at 7 p.m. Friday.

They had just completed collecting weekly rent at their six-family apartment house at 617 Belmont. As they were walking away, one of four Negro youths was sitting on a nearby wall jumped at Pace and pinned his arms.

Maeras Expected To Win Tonight's Demo Convention

A new Democratic nominee for Madison county treasurer will be chosen as the 184 precinct committee assembly at 7:30 tonight at the county courthouse in Edwardsville. He will replace the late Stephen B. Kennedy of Alton on the Nov. 8 ballot.

John Maeras, 40, a Madison police officer and an appointed administrator in the circuit clerk office, is regarded as the favorite to win tonight's vote. He lost to Mr. Kennedy by 484 votes in the June 14 primary election.

Also seeking the nomination is Dan W. McGee, 66, Venice, who was elected to a four-year term as county treasurer in 1963. McGee backed Kennedy in the spring campaign, and Mrs. Kennedy urged committee men to Aug. 1 to choose McGee to make the race. She has been named to serve out her husband's term as Alton supervisor.

In the event Maeras wins tonight's vote, the possibility of McGee filing as an independent candidate has been discounted. Whether 478 petition signatures could be obtained by Aug. 22 from non-participants in the primary is unknown. The figure is 9% of the vote in the previous general election.

Pete E. Fuchs of Godfrey won the Republican treasurer nomination without opposition in the primary.

Maeras is actively seeking support in the special precinct

Freight on River Here Smashing All Records

Latest Monthly Total Near All-Time Mark Set Earlier This Year

Commercial freight tonnage passing through the Chain of Rocks canal continued near record-high levels during July and reached a total of 22,656,805 tons for the seven months of this year—an unprecedented seven-month total for any period since the locks began operation in 1963.

The Army Corps of Engineers, which operates the canal locks, announced today that freight shipments passing through the locks in July included 1,606,575 tons of up-river freight and 2,197,199 tons in freight moving down river, a total movement of 3,803,774 tons of commercial freight.

Added to this were 400 tons of government freight for an overall total of 3,803,774 tons.

The seven-month figure of 22,656,805 tons is an increase of 3,133,708 tons, or 16%, over the 19,523,097 tons shipped through the canal during the same period in 1965.

A spokesman for the Engineer Corps district told the Press-Record that freight tonnage going through the locks has been setting constant records and no

County Tavern Owners to Seek Dramshop Repeal

Petitions Circulated To Oppose Mandatory Insurance Requirement

Repeal of the Dram Shop Act—an Illinois law requiring tavern owners to carry insurance against any kind of damages resulting from sale of liquor on their premises—will be sought in next year's session of the state legislature in a campaign conceived and initiated by the Madison County Tavern Owners Association.

Petitions calling upon the General Assembly to revoke the Dram Shop act, referred to by tavern operators as "the most vicious law on the statute books," were placed in circulation last week in taverns throughout the Quad-City area.

Within the next week petitions will be placed in every tavern, night club and cocktail lounge in the area, according to Charles Heister, operator of the Lums Cafe and president of the county association.

State Drive Planned Here

A statewide drive in an effort to wipe the law off the books also is being initiated under sponsorship of the Illinois Retail Beverage Association as the result of a state board meeting at the Rose Bowl here in June. At that time, the plan to request the state legislature to repeal the law was presented to state association directors by officers of the Madison county group.

Heister said circulation of petitions will be a part of the campaign throughout the state. The petitions state simply that "we, the undersigned residents of the state of Illinois, hereby appeal to the Illinois state legislature to repeal the Dram Shop Act."

Many Signatures Obtained

Tavern owners in the Quad-City area reported today that they are having no difficulty in obtaining signatures, and that several thousand persons already have signed.

Under the Dram Shop Act, Illinois tavern owners are required to carry insurance for payment of damages that result from drinking in taverns.

The act places responsibility for damages upon all tavern operators in whose places liquor or beer is consumed by a person who later becomes involved in a lawsuit in which he was injured or killed or injured in an accident or by other means.

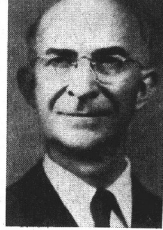

Example Cited

One Granite City tavern proprietor cited the case of a customer who drank one bottle of beer in a tavern and then went to another tavern where he drank all evening and became intoxicated.

The customer then got into his truck and became involved in an accident in which he was severely injured. His family sued and collected an equal amount from both taverns in which he was served.

Tavern proprietors cite dozens of examples of cases in which two, three or even more proprietors have been held equally responsible for incompetent acts of customers who drink too much, regardless of where they became intoxicated.

A native of Sparta, Ill., he moved to Granite City in 1901 and for a time was employed by Granite City Steel Co. He studied law in St. Louis. He moved to Collinsville three years ago.

Master-in-Chancery

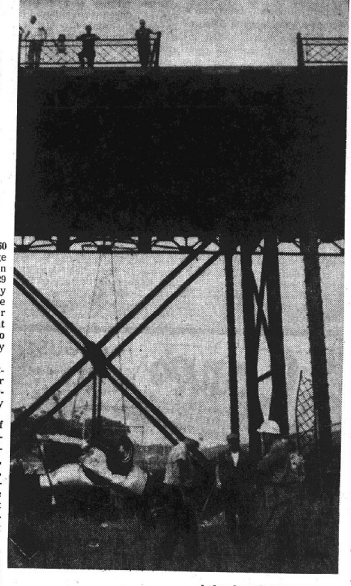

Mr. Steele also served as master-in-chancery for the Granite City court and Madison county court for a number of years.

He was a member of the Tri-City, Madison County and Illinois Bar Associations and was honored by the state bar on his 50th year as an attorney in 1939. He also was a 50-year member of Granite City Masonic Lodge 877, in which he served in various offices, and of the Christian Science Church here.

GC Council to Get Report Tonight on Sewer Grant

A detailed report on the $1,500,000 grant of federal tax funds for sanitary and storm water sewer lines in Granite City will be a major topic at tonight's 8 o'clock session of the city council.

The Special Sewer committee, composed of Aldermen Sternberg, Moerlein and Bartoski, is expected to outline preliminary steps for raising a similar amount through a bond issue to carry out a $3,000,000 sewer program—part of the city's $10,000,000 proposal of four years ago.

Mayor Partney said a citizens' committee will be named—possibly tonight—to aid the council with planning for a $1,500,000 bond issue and referendum.

Applied 5 Months Ago
The city made application for the federal grant through the U.S. Housing and Urban Development agency early this year, and is among the first cities for which the federal tax funds have been set aside.

The sewer work planned under the grant includes an initial step toward complete separation of sanitary and storm water sewers to provide greater capacity for the city's present combined system.

Also included in the $3,000,000 program are sanitary sewer lines for areas of the city not now served. These are all of North Granite, portions of West Granite, and several locations in the Namoki area along Wabash avenue, Clark avenue and Mercer drive.

CD Rescue Team Finds Lost Tot Unhurt Today

A childless, two-and-a-half year old East St. Louis boy, who was the object of a large-scale search last night and early today by police and volunteers in the area south of the Union Electric Co. plant at Venice, was discovered shortly before 7 a.m. today by a member of the Granite City civil defense rescue squad.

The child, Donald Hart, was reported missing by his parents about 10 p.m. Sunday after he had wandered away from their campsite on the Mississippi river bank.

He was found unhurt, but covered with insect bites, about 50 to 60 feet from the river bank, and nearly a quarter of a mile from where he was last seen. He was located about a half mile south of the power plant.

Units of police, St. Clair county civil defense and a number of other volunteers had searched the area during the night. Members of the Granite City civil defense were alerted at 3 a.m. today, with ten auxiliary policemen and two rescue personnel reporting at 5:45 a.m. to begin the search. Units from Wood River and other area volunteer teams also answered the call.

BRONZE STAR MEDAL, won for meritorious service while in Vietnam, is proudly worn by Major Norman L. Smith, USAF, at right, son of Rev. and Mrs. Ross S. Smith, 2915 Benton street. Presenting him the citation and medal is Col. Frank A. Bogart, director of Defense Contract Administration Services Region, Boston, Mass.

Major Smith is Bronze Star Recipient for Vietnam Duty

Local DeMolays To Attend 1966 State Conclave

A delegation of 11 Granite City DeMolays and two adult advisors is planning to depart Friday for the Carbondale campus of Southern Illinois University, where they will attend the 38th annual convocation of the Illinois State Association of the Order of DeMolays.

Other events arranged for the convocation include opening ceremonies at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the University Center Ballroom and public ceremonies the same evening at the SIU arena. The latter will feature a performance by the national champion Black Knights Drum and Bugle Corps of Belleville and a memorial service and Legion of Honor investiture.

Business sessions and election of the new Illinois master counselor will take place Saturday, followed with a grand banquet that evening. Ross Randolph, Illinois director of public safety, will be guest speaker.

A reception for state officers and sweetheart candidates will be held after the banquet, followed by a grand ball.

Highlighting the final day, Sunday, will be the awarding of trophies to winners of athletic competition, including golf, tennis and bowling, and to successful entrants in the flower talk, ritual and "chapter of the year" contests.

Also taking place at Sunday's final grand breakfast will be crowning of the new "State Sweetheart," selected from candidates nominated by individual chapters; a farewell address by state master counselor Harry J. Sterling of Belleville; an installation of new state officers.

The 38th convocation planning committee is headed by Robert M. Bates of Carbondale and Howard E. Luggen of Belleville.

List Air Pollution Facts; How Can Be Corrected

The atmosphere over the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan area covered by the recently completed Interstate Air Pollution Study is dirtied each year with 148,000 tons of particulates which obscure visibility, soil everything they touch and present a health hazard.

This is just one of the pertinent facts about air pollution in the area set out in a pamphlet which has been made available free of charge by the St. Louis County Health Department, according to Dr. C. Howe Eller, St. Louis county health commissioner.

Entitled "Polluted Air: The Black Cloud that Covers our Metropolis," the pamphlet incorporates information from the air pollution study and discusses what every citizen can do about it. The Health department also has other pamphlets on air pollution which are available to the public by contacting the County Health Department, 801 South Brentwood blvd. in Clayton, Mo. (Telephone PA 6-100, Ext. 207).

The new pamphlet also points out that 448,500 tons of oxides of sulphur are emitted into the area's atmosphere each year along with 698,000 grams of benzene, in high concentrations, sulphur dioxide, a colorless gas, kills trees and flowers, while benzopyrene is suspected of causing cancer in man. Some estimates show exposure to cancer-causing agents in some large American cities is equivalent to smoking a pack of cigarettes a day.

Biggest Pollution Source

One of the major sources of pollution, the pamphlet says, is the annual measure of 1,114,000 tons of carbon monoxide and 373,600 tons of hydrocarbons recorded for the area. Carbon monoxide is a poisonous gas. In auto exhausts in closed garages it is deadly and in street traffic, it irritates the senses. Hydrocarbons combine with oxides of nitrogen under the influence of sunshine to form Los-Angeles type smog.

The booklet explains that pollution comes from combustion of fuels from industries, homes, heating and motor vehicles; from commercial and industrial processes such as the manufacture of chemicals, petroleum, cement and other items; and from burning of refuse in open dumps, incinerators and back yards.

Dirty air, it points out further, is linked with respiratory diseases including asthma, bronchitis, the common cold, emphysema and lung cancer. In addition, air pollution costs the nation $11 billion dollars annually, an average of $65 per year for every person in the country.

Polish Hall is again Illinois State Slow Pitch champion. It's the team's third championship in four years. Polish Hall nabbed it by crushing the strong East St. Louis Tasmanian Devils 17-2 last night at Caseyville.

As it turned out, the first inning would have been all Andy Modrusic's boys needed. John Modrusic led off with a double, Everett Cottrell followed with a single, and three more in the third, Polish Hall really unloaded in the fifth. Big here was Dan Cottrell with a grand slam.

Paddlers Win Novice Meet, End Season

The Paddlers' club finished its summer swimming season over the weekend with a convincing victory in the 1966 Southwest Illinois Swimming Conference novice championship.

Fifty-nine young Paddler swimmers and divers, the group that did not compete in a similar championship last week, showed great strength in scoring 366 points over second-place Montclair (227), and pushing perennial rival Summersport of Alton to third place (189).

Other scores: 4th—Duplo Hill Toppers (121), 5th—Collinsville Town and Country (74), 6th—Belleville Dorchester (68), 7th—Belleville Sandowners (55), 8th—Sunset Hills Country Club (24).

Coach Keith Parker said, "This novice squad makes Paddlers appear to be a powerhouse in the conference for future years. The meet had over 500 entries, which shows the great interest here and the growth of competitive swimming in this area."

Paddlers seemed to be in control throughout the tourney as they scored continually in the higher point bracket. Starring were Kathy Baggett and Scott Loftus, who were doubles winners—Kathy in the 8 and under girls freestyle and breast stroke and Scott in the boys 11-12 free style and individual medley.

The rest of the scoring was evenly distributed with single wins for Dick Skirball in the 15-17 boys individual medley, and David Hatcher (8 and under), Greg Terrell (9-10) and Alex Tarpoft (13-14) in the breast stroke.

Other victories were centered in the backstroke with Mark Magyar (11-12), Leslie Wright (11-12) girls, and Mark St. Ivany (15-17) receiving the top spots in Wilson Park last night.

Others in the winners' attack included Donnie Rains with two Hables and a single and Jim Noeth (11-12), and Jackie Corbin (11-12) girls all won in their events.

In six diving contests, the Paddlers took three first-place wins: Marvin Dufner (12 and under), Brian Huff (13-14) and Jane Parker (15-17).

Bethel Community Church Loop Winners

Conclusion of regular play in Wilson Park's Church League Friday night found a pair of teams in each division all knotted up.

Both divisions start playoffs Friday. Western winner Bethel, finishing with a 10-2 mark, plays the fourth-place team; Western second-place Graceland, 6-6, plays the third-place club.

First Assembly of God and Central Christian are both tied for third at 4-5. A coin flip will decide the pairings.

In the Eastern division, first-place Community Heights, ending at 10-3, will play fourth-place Second Baptist, which finished at 6-7. Niedringhaus Methodist and West 2nd Baptist both 8-5, meet in this playoff pairing.

28-Hit Attack

In Friday's action, Community Heights bombed First Assembly 31-10. The winner's 28-hit attack included homers by Rich Etley, Dale Bagwell, Charlie Jacobs and Rich Wilson. Bob James was four-for-four and Mooney was three-for-three for the losers.

In another lopsided game, 2nd Baptist downed Emmanuel Baptist 22-4 for the losers' twelfth loss. The winners pounded out 23 hits, including two homers by Garry Whitehead. Leadoff hitter Ray Smith was four-for-four in sparking the losers, who committed eight errors.

Singles by Al Kennedy, Larry Lakin and Ron Raynor contributed to a pair of runs in the seventh that saw Central Christian edge Niedringhaus Methodist 10-8. Maurice Hemphill, Glen Wolfe and Bill Lancaster had triples for the losers. Lancaster's came in the seventh, when Niedringhaus scored once.

Another close game found West 2nd Baptist nipping Graceland Baptist 7-6. Wendell Williams doubled in the sixth and inning on Ernie Phillips' single to give the winners their edge. Graceland had scored four times in the sixth when Chuck Feltmeyer hit a grand slam.

Wilson Park pool attendance, with 16 days of swimming left, is up by 4000 over the total at a similar point last year.

Attendance figures as of Friday put participation at 39,369. The pool closes Aug. 30.

Popularity of the pool's instructional programs has also increased.

A second lifesaving session is set to begin today. It will go for two weeks. Hours are 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. Monday through Friday, and there is no cost except for the $1 insurance fee.

In three previous swimming instruction sessions, 613 students participated and 200 passed. The early session with beginners and advanced swimmers had 306 enrolled and a session just concluded saw another 223 students.

Voluntarily, 14 students enrolled in the lifesaving course.

Sheet Metal Champion in Park League

Rodger Coakley's three triples advised 14-hit attack as Granite City Sheet Metal beat Tratlert's and took the High School League championship 11-4 in Wilson Park last night.

Others in the winners' attack included Donnie Rains with two Hables and a single and Jim Noeth (11-12), and Jackie Corbin (11-12) girls all won in their events.

In six diving contests, the Paddlers took three first-place wins: Marvin Dufner (12 and under), Brian Huff (13-14) and Jane Parker (15-17).

Rain Stops Race Event

The weatherman proved uncooperative and washed out both the Tri-City Speedway and Springfield race program over the weekend.

The Illinois-Missouri Stock Car Race, which was scheduled for this coming Saturday night, High-broke the 141 game wide open with a 75-46 feature on the half mile.

It now appears as though Jay Woodside, winner at the Knoxville, Tenn., races this weekend, will be an entrant. At least 35 top drivers are expected in for the program.

Venice Girls Out In League Playoffs

Venice-Columbia was eliminated from Girls' Twilight League playoffs Friday night at Wood River. Wood River's Nancy Voyles broke the 141 game wide open with a sackful full triple.

Wood River now meets Marysville in the first round, faces Collinsville in the second round, playoffs are a double-elimination affair. Cup championship playoffs start Aug. 24.

Flag Program to Feature Three Leagues It's That Time Again... Park Football Plans Set

With Wilson Park's Flag Football, with games starting at 9 a.m. Some games may be played under the lights at the softball team baseball just went home long enough to change uniforms.

Registration begins Aug. 25, and both teams and individuals can sign up.

The $1 park insurance for summer activities covers football, too. The $8 non-resident fee, however must be paid again.

Eight-Man Teams

Chief difference in this year's program will be that change to eight-man teams for all participants. Previously, the third-grade and fifth-sixth grade teams played six gridirers, and there were eight-man squads in the seventh grade league.

"We changed to eight-man for two reasons," Park Sp. Harold Brown explains. "First, it gives more boys on each team a chance to play. Second, going into eight-man play was too much of a change for the younger boys each year."

The only difference, then, between the two younger leagues and the older seventh-grade league, this year will be the ball. The younger boys use a youth-size pigskin.

Hall, Gray Leagues

Granite City's Ron Hall, defensive back for the pro football Boston Patriots, provides the name for the third-fourth grades league. He had not become aware of this fact until he visited the park office this spring.

The fifth-sixth grades leagues is named after Ken Gray, formerly with Tri-Mor Bowl here and an active participant in park athletic activities. He also is a professional gridirer.

The older boys' league is simply called the Seventh Grade League. All three circuits play on Saturdays.

Must Wear Helmets

Equipment for the game, which differs again from actual football in having a "first and 20 yard" attack pattern, is up to the teams and players.

Brown said also that the boys wear football helmets. "This is a great help for our referees," the superintendent explained.

Classic Games End Mitchell Boys' Baseball

The Mitchell Boys Baseball season wound up yesterday with one pitcher's duel and a horse race. The Atom All Stars, with Leo Martin and David Hett rationing one hit apiece, downed the Cardinals 2-1. The Red Sox Cubs beat the Giants-Dodgers 13-4 in a Bantam game.

Darley Kemper got the only run for the Cardinals when he hit a homer off Leo Martin. Mike Waldo, Cardinals' hurler, allowed just three hits to the All Stars, who scored twice.

In the Bantam game the winning combination Red Sox Cubs team completely overpowered the Giants-Dodgers opponents as they pounded out 18 hits.

Also from the Quad-City area, Turner Coggins, Venice, was an official timer and Dennis Meyer also worked as an official at the event.

MORE ABOUT GC Council

may be a report by the Personnel committee, headed by Alderman Thompson, on a break-down of the $40,000 budgeted last month for salary increases for the city's 134 employees.

On July 5, the committee presented a preliminary report with recommendations for the police and fire departments. The tentative proposal of percentage pay boosts was 3 to 7% based on length of service.

At that time, no action was taken pending other negotiations with representatives of city employees and because of objections by several council members to an increase other than one based on cost-of-living.

The agenda for tonight's meeting fills nearly four pages and includes 17 separate communications and letters.

MORE ABOUT County Tavern

asked, "This is a free country. We don't twist their arm to come in and drink. They do it of their own free will and should know the possible consequences."

Principal complaint of the tavern proprietor is the premium on state law does not specify a minimum amount of insurance which must be carried by a tavern or have their own set of standards.

In practically all cases, it was alleged, the insurance company to which application has been made for Dram Shop insurance bases the required coverage on the volume of business done at the tavern involved. Some tavern proprietors contend also that the net worth of the owner has a lot to do in establishing the amount of coverage.

Automatic Increases

Not only do the basic requirements of coverage differ, but premiums also vary to a great extent, tavern owners said. In addition, it was explained, premiums increase automatically for each insurance loss. Usually this amounts to about 25% for each loss, according to the tavern proprietors.

One downtown Granite City tavern proprietor told the Press-Record that his premium for Dram Shop insurance is $470 a year, while that of another operator a few blocks away, who has had several dram shop losses, is now $1600 a year.

He said that the premium where the tavern proprietor can no longer pay for Dram Shop insurance, he said.

On the other hand, Dram Shop

Man Falls, Injured

While working on his new house under construction, Robert Kelly, 2819 Sunset drive, was injured when he fell into the basement at 8:20 a.m. Saturday. He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of head injuries.

Improper Turn Charged

Jackie P. McClean, 26, of 2606 Center street was charged with making an improper left turn at 20th and State streets at 12:10 a.m. today. He is to appear in magistrate court by Aug. 26.

insurance is described by attorneys and officials as a necessary part of the tavern business to avoid passing on to the public the "unhappy results" of the liquor trade.

One attorney, who declined to be quoted by name, said that he can see no reason why widows, dependent children or disabled individuals should become public charges, as taxpayers' expense, as the result of business by which the tavern operator has profited.

"Other persons conducting a business have to have liability insurance," he said.

"Persons driving automobiles and trucks have to have insurance to pay for any damages growing out of their negligence," he said. "The tavern proprietor, who profits from the business, also be responsible."

Curbs Sales to Intoxicated

Attorneys also contend, generally, that the Dram Shop Act making tavern operators responsible for proper conduct in the sale of alcoholic beverages serves to a greater extent a deterrent against unscrupulous sales to "anyone who drinks himself under the table."

Without the law, some contend, many tavern operators who do not now do so would sell liquor to an intoxicated person.

One attorney specifically pointed out that "the public has an interest in this" because, in cases where a person is killed or disabled in incidents growing out of drinking, their dependents often become public charges at public cost.

"Therefore," he said, "the matter of Dram Shop insurance is a matter of social policy. If the tavern operator wants to eliminate Dram Shop insurance because of the trouble it causes him, why shouldn't we eliminate the sale of alcohol entirely? Then all the difficulties would be removed."

Meet With Legislators

Hester said meetings are planned in the near future at which tavern operators will discuss their legislative program with state legislators from this area.

"Officials of tavern associations in other counties will follow a similar program.

Details of the state drive will be worked out in sessions of the annual meeting of the Illinois Retail Beverage Association at St. Charles Sept. 19, 20 and 21, Hester added.

Damage Suit Filed Over Madison Auto Accident

A damage suit was filed last week for Ernest and Violet Kassabum of Granite City against Dorothy Chonko and Diane Martin, both of Madison, in Madison county circuit court last week as the result of an auto accident May 3 at 12th street and Madison avenue. Kassabum seeks $48,628.75 to compensate for alleged injuries, and Mrs. Kassabum is asking $14,735.20 for loss of companionship and services of her husband. The complaint alleges that Diane Martin was driving the Chonko auto and made a left turn without signaling, causing the accident. Negligence was charged.

Fourth in Series Of Tour Dinners Held at Hospital

The fourth in a series of tour dinners was held at the hospital Thursday evening. Purpose of the tours is to create a deeper understanding between the public and the hospital, a spokesman commented.

Civic-minded businessmen sponsor the dinners, which usually begin at 6:30 and are completed by 9:30, after which a question-and-answer session is held.

The guests meet in the hospital library to get acquainted. Then they have dinner served in the cafeteria.

After the dinner, the history of the hospital is outlined. The tour which follows takes in four or five of the hospital's 36 departments. The department heads in each department discuss their phase of the hospital program with the guests.

After the tour of the hospital, the group meets in the library to discuss the future of the hospital.

CHANGING SKYLINE on the Quad-Cities industrial scene is in evidence in the photo above showing skeleton work for the basic oxygen furnaces at Granite City Steel Co. which will be seven stories high.

On the right is a tower at the Air Products Corp. plant in the 2200 block of Monroe street which is being expanded to supply oxygen for the new GC Steel furnaces. The BOF installation at the mill is along what used to be Omaha street in the "behind-the-mill" area which was cleared of homes over a year ago. When the new furnaces go into operation next year, they will replace the seven orange smoke belching open hearth furnaces at Granite City Steel Co.

Hospital and Doctor Bills Allowable Under Medicare

(This is the tenth in a series of articles by Ralph Brasher, Social Security district manager in East St. Louis, on how Medicare works.)

The medical insurance plan helps you pay for a number of different medical services and supplies which may be necessary in the treatment of an illness or injury. These services and supplies may be furnished by a physician as part of his treatment, or by the outpatient department of a hospital or by a medical clinic in connection with treatment received from him or other doctors.

Services or supplies from qualified diagnostic laboratories and other suppliers are covered by your medical insurance when a physician determines that they are necessary.

Payments for most of these services and supplies are handled the same way as doctor bills — the medical insurance payment can be made to you or you can assign your right to payment to the person who provides the services. In some cases, however, the organization furnishing the service must make the claim.

For example, if you receive services as an outpatient from a hospital that is participating in the Medicare program, the hospital applies for the medical insurance payment. In this situation, you are responsible for only that part of the bill which is not paid for by your medical insurance.

Final Week to Pay Property Tax Bills in GC

Including this afternoon, five days remain for local payment of 1965 Granite City tax bills, (1966 collection). Collector E. R. "Pat" Rich said the collection office at the city hall will be open through Friday, Aug. 19, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Up to this time, Granite City township residents have made $2,072,999 in real estate tax payments and $401,342 in personal property tax bills. This totals $2,534,341.

Statistics of last summer at a similar time showed payments of $2,297,424 and $632,250. That total, $2,929,674, is approximately 14% better than this year's count.

A 2% commission goes to the city on all tax payments made locally rather than at Edwardsville.

"ACE SETS THE PACE" — QUALITY AT LOWER PRICES

Unique Features Built-In at New Parkview School to be Opened Aug. 31

Community Service Core with Gym, Cafeteria Can be Closed Off from Classroom Area

"Continuously monotone decor in light colors, but accentuated throughout with modern facilities of the latest design" is a description which pinpoints the new Parkview grade school on Maryville road in the Dream Villa area.

"This building, which is to open later this month, was designed by Architect Virgil Dulgeroff, who began drawing up blueprints for the educational structure in February 1965.

During its infancy stages of planning, Dulgeroff met with Supt. Russell D. Johnson and other Granite City school district officials and a committee of teachers to determine what was wanted and needed in the way of up-to-date schooling installations.

The first thing decided upon by the planning board was for the school district to sway additional land from the rear of the Frohardt school campus on Johnson road for a unique location at the corner of Worthen Park. In this way school children can use the park playground during their recess periods, while in the summer months the park district youngsters can use the restrooms at the south end of the school during the recreation period.

Aug. 31 Opening Day

To be ready for the opening of school Aug. 31, the $346,557 project features a 64-foot hand-set marble chip mural on the front side of the building. Combined colors of red, blue, green and beige form the figures of young girls and boys at play.

Thus far, parental approval concerning the eight colorful panels has far outweighed the controversial comments of their children. The sixth-graders call it "kid-stuff," while the incoming kindergarteners gaze with open eyes and say, "I really like that, mom."

There are a lot of other features to be talked about. Leo Wolf, contractor, said that the school has a capacity of 450 pupils, with potential to add 280 students in the future through additions of classrooms.

The school has 13 regular classrooms and two jointly-connected kindergarten rooms with adjoining washroom facilities and doors to an outside play area.

But construction planning provides for an additional eight rooms which could be built when needed.

Four rooms could be added to both the front and rear of the building. In this event, stucco walls already finished would provide the initial sidings for the new classrooms. However, a popular demand dictated that the murals shouldn't be moved to make way for more space, eight rooms could be constructed at the rear.

Actually, the entire school, gymnasium and cafeteria are equipped for expansion. Air conditioning can be added, and throughout the building, and toilet, heating and kitchen facilities have been designed for future expansion.

When lunchtime comes, students will be able to stay in a single line from the hall to the kitchen and cafeteria without traditional mix-ups with other classes. This "non-confusion" will be easy to spot at noontime because only one classroom is located near the cafeteria with seating capacity for over 100 pupils.

The principal's and nurse's offices are in the same general area.

Located directly behind the dining room is a 40x80-foot gymnasium. Tiled on the floor with a light-brown wood-paneled ceiling it also has a small stage with a storage room and coaches' office on either side.

The gym is designed for intramural rather than spectator sports.

Community Activity Core

During the evening the cafeteria and gymnasium can be used for PTA meetings or other social functions. By combining the gym and dining room, the north end of the building automatically becomes somewhat of a community core for social and recreational activities.

So that members or participants of the organizations won't spend most of their time walking the corridors and entering the rooms of the kindergarten, intermediate, uppergrades, a rolling aluminum grill can be pulled down by the custodian after school orders to close off the classroom areas.

As for the classrooms, each one is characterized by its own size and color, varying from light shades of red, green and blue to beige "off-colors." This monotone painting is singular throughout the school to reflect both an atmosphere of study and change of scenery for the pupils.

Two kindergarten rooms, the biggest in the building, are carpeted and jointly connected by a restrooms area.

Special Rooms

Contrasted to these rooms and the normal classrooms for the older students are the consider- ably smaller speech remedial reading and art craft rooms which are made to accommodate only a handful of students for private instruction.

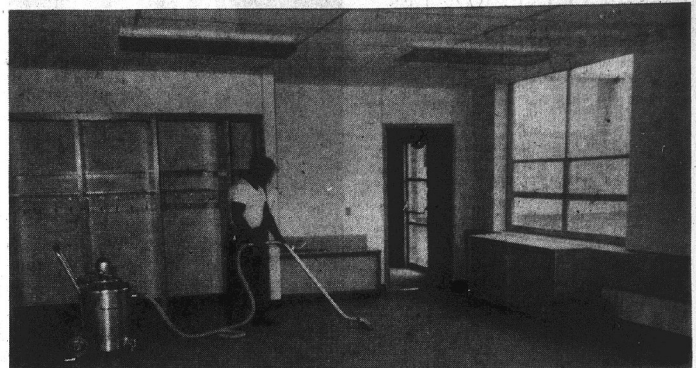

Although these special rooms have no windows, three bulletin boards and one "greenboard" should be used quite often as the youngsters attempt to adapt themselves to their new school-way of life.

Also, a teacher's workroom and lounge are situated close together to meet their occupants various needs, both personal and paper-work wise.

Just in case of emergencies, battery-powered lights will shine through the hallway.

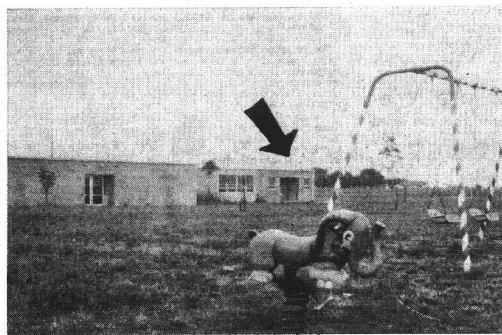

Architect Dulgeroff extended his congratulations to Leo Wolf and jointly connected by a contractors.

"I'm more than pleased with the fine work that has been done," Dulgeroff said. "Through 13 months of building, we've had only a few delays, and these were attributed to weather and hold-up of materials. Excellent workmanship and the combined efforts of many has enabled us to complete the school on time."

VACUUM CLEANING the wall-to-wall carpeting in one of two kindergarten rooms is Parkview school Custodian Carl Harrison. In the right background is a hallway which connects with the second Kindergarten room and contains wash room facilities with miniature fixtures for tiny tots. Other doorways in the hall lead to an outside playground.

DUAL PURPOSE playground-school worked out by the school and park districts. Equipment in Worthen Park next to the school provides facilities for school children while the school will provide restroom facilities (arrow) during the park district's summer recreation program.

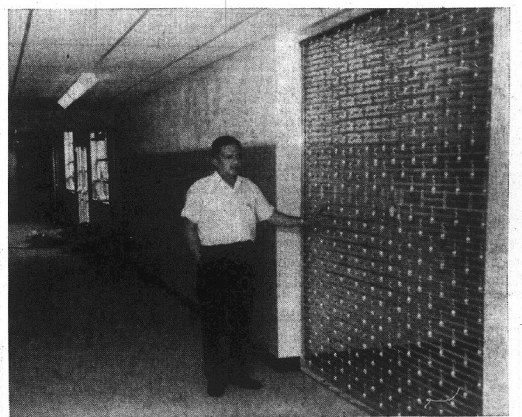

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL, Mrs. Agnes Fryntzko, smiles approvingly as she tries out a three-level water fountain setup in the main hall of the Parkview school. With youngsters in age groups ranging from kindergarten to sixth grade, these fountains are sized for students of all sizes.

GYMNASIUM and stage blueprints are studied by Architect Virgil Dulgeroff as Press-Record reporter Paul Buser takes down the essential statistics. The gym, which was not constructed for spectator sports, measures 40'x80' and features basketball standards at either end. Lining both walls are special heating vents leading to the stage, a coaches office and a storage room at the front end of the gymnasium. These makeup the recreational-physical educational used in the community core area at the north end of the Parkview school.

ALUMINUM GRILL separates the community core from the classroom area of the Parkview school. At this north end of the building Architect Virgil Dulgeroff points out that various organizations can hold their functions during the evening while custodians do their nightwork without being troubled by visitors in other parts of the school. The hallway directly behind Dulgeroff leads to the cafeteria, gymnasium and playground doors.

COLORLED STONE MURAL which extends across a portion of the front of new Parkview school as seen from Maryville road. The school is in the Dream Villa subdivision area, and close to the rapidly growing Wilshire Manor.

COMPLETED, but yet to be organized, is the Parkview school's kitchen and cafeteria area. The kitchen is equipped with stainless steel steam tables, cabinets, freezers, refrigerators and stoves. It is designed to serve more than the expected 450 students if expansion is necessary. Not pictured on the right is a serving window which opens to the 100-pupil cafeteria.

Long-Range Plan For River Road

Goals and a long-range plan for continued development of Illinois' portion of the Great River Road are to be studied and set up under a proposal made by State Sen. Paul Simon (D, Troy), who offered his plan Thursday at a meeting of the Illinois Mississippi River Scenic Parkway Commission at Nauvoo.

Simon suggested that representatives of the state tourism department and highway division work together with Sen. Thomas Awerkamp of Quincy, the commission's chairman, to get the planning started.

This group's findings could then be referred to the Illinois Highway Study Commission for integration into the overall program, the senator said.

He expressed the hope that the program would be sufficiently well organized for presentation to the 1967 session of the Illinois General Assembly.

The river road includes Federal Aid Route 151 in this area.

Aerial Check of Water Pollution in Illinois

Clarence W. Klassen, technical secretary of the Illinois Sanitary Water Board, announced Friday that aerial observation to check on pollution discharges has been added to the board's continuing water surveillance program.

As part of a current Illinois River Study, a Sanitary Water Board engineer and a photographer from the Illinois Department of Public Health made an aerial surveillance and photographic flight over the Illinois River.

Several sources of pollution were observed. Field sampling surveys will be made of the discharges photographed from the air. Data collected will be considered by the board for formal action.

Klassen said the aerial surveillance technique using color film is effective for spotting many types of pollution discharges not always visible from the ground. It is especially effective in detecting discharges from industries.

The board's technical staff will make a periodic aerial surveillance of the Illinois River. "We are anticipating expanding this new dimension of the board's surveillance program to eventually include other areas in the state," Klassen said.

Youths who live in the area east of the center line of Mercedia street and north of College street will enroll at Blair school, with all other kindergarten pupils signing up at Dunbar school. Following a study of registrants' address, assignments will be made.

For every student entering the kindergarten or the first grade for the first time, medical and birth certificates are required.

Although cafeteria service does not begin full-day meal service until that day, Aug. 30, buses will operate the first day of school. Routes are similar to those of previous years.

John Pier, superintendent of the Venice school district, set down a plan to follow for those who are entering the Venice high school or elementary program for the first time this fall. They must have a diploma or other record showing their eligibility to enroll in the Venice school system, along with a complete physical examination.

Many a man goes to the bad trying to be a good fellow.

Hitch-hikers are not only a nuisance—they're a menace.

How to Acquire Suntan Safely—Don't Overdo

Years ago, fashionable women went out of their way to protect their skin from the sun—from wearing broad-brimmed hats to carrying parasols. The pale, delicate skin color was definitely vogue.

Today the picture is reversed. Women now go to extremes to turn that pale delicate skin tone into a deep bronze—even to the point of damaging their skin.

Not only can continued overexposure to the sun make the skin dry, leathery and wrinkled, but it also can cause freckling and brown spots, especially if you're middle-aged. The biggest danger, however, is skin cancer.

Can Be Harmful

The evidence is clear that chronic exposure to sunlight can be a major factor in the production of precancerous and cancerous conditions of the skin.

However, if you're sensible about achieving a tan, don't be alarmed about getting skin cancer. "Limited" exposure to the sun can be quite safe and pleasant. Just don't overdo it.

First of all, restrict your exposure to 15 minutes a day for a starter. Then gradually increase exposure by five minutes each day.

Sunbath Early, Late

If possible, sunbathe in the morning or late afternoon when the sun's ultraviolet rays are slanted through the atmosphere, blocking some of the injurious wave lengths.

Suntan lotions will probably help you acquire a tan, especially if they contain a sun-screening agent. If your skin is dry, use an oily or cream lotion. If it's oily, an alcoholic lotion is more effective.

But remember: no suntan product can filter out ALL the sun's rays, so don't rely on them for complete protection from sunburn.

Since it takes days for natural tanning to reach its peak, be patient. Once you have acquired it, avoid sitting in the sun for hours at any time. Although the increased pigmentation in your skin may protect you from sunburn, the sun's rays can still injure your skin.

Treatment of Sunburn If, despite these preventive measures, you still encounter a slight sunburn, here's how to treat it:

Bathe the skin in cool to lukewarm water containing a cup of cornstarch, oatmeal powder or bran.

Apply an oily lotion to the burned area after bathing. A mixture of olive oil and milk of magnesia is quite effective. Baking soda and water is another soothing solution.

Leave the skin uncovered and avoid any friction on the burned area.

Obtain professional advice if the skin becomes swollen and blistered. Sunburn can be just as serious and painful as a burn from a red hot grill.

Alton SIU May Rent Space to Government

Southern Illinois University officials said Friday that unused classroom space at the Alton center of SIU may be rented to house a supplementary educational center, which will be financed by the federal government.

The Alton school district has received a planning grant of $54,325. The controlling district for the educational center is to service 700 square miles which contain 33,379 public and private school children.

Dr. James Comer, SIU surveyor for the program, said the university has been approached on renting space, but how much is available will not be known until after classes start this fall. Specialized consultants, instructional services, resources and materials would be provided to co-operating schools by the center.

MORE ABOUT Freight

doubtedly will set an all-time yearly high in 1966. Total shipments in 1965 amounted to 35,926,212 tons.

One reason for this increase, he said, is a sharp pickup in traffic coming down the Missouri River.

A few years ago, Missouri River traffic entering the Mississippi above the canal consisted only of small quantities of lumber and building materials. The Missouri River, however, is now moving reasonably large quantities of grain and other commodities.

Near All-Time High
July's freight tonnage was 102,385 tons more than the June total of 3,700,640 tons, and only 73,941 tons less than the May figure of 3,777,086 tons.

Further indication of the constantly increasing river traffic was given by the volume of river craft passing through the locks during July and in the first seven months of the year.

A total of 577 vessels of all types passed through the locks in July, bringing to 32,027 the number of craft using the locks during the January-July period.

In 1965, 28,402 vessels passed through the locks during the same period.

Lockages Increase
A total of 1055 lockages was made during July for a total of 5587 so far this year. During the first seven-month period of 1966, lockages totaled 4904.

Shipments through the locks in July, according to Engineer Corps records, included: petroleum products, 427,700 tons up river and 383,250 tons down river; grain, 16,500 up and 1,600 tons down; coal, 524,350 tons up and none down; cement and sand, 2300 up and 9000 down; sulphur, 50,000 up and none down; miscellaneous commodities, 388,000 up and 41,100 down; iron and steel products, 27,700 up and 95,700 down; and chemicals, 185,825 tons up and 28,600 tons down river.

Science and the Quad-Cities

An Apple A Day—All Year Long

(American Institute of Biological Sciences)

Researchers at Cornell University have reported that more were "put to sleep" in storage than 14 million bushels of apples during the past season.

The storage under controlled atmospheric conditions makes fresh and tasty apples available practically the year around.

Several varieties of apples as well as pears have been successfully kept fresh; however, this storage technique will not work for many varieties.

The process is called "gas storage" and was developed in England in the 1930s. The first commercial storage rooms were built in New York State in the 1940s. Now there are many throughout the United States.

Controlled Atmosphere

The atmosphere is controlled in the rooms by manipulating oxygen and carbon dioxide levels.

The low oxygen level retards ripening, postponing maturity changes, breakdown and scald development, while the relatively high carbon dioxide retards respiration, the change of ground color, the development of decay, Jonathan stop and scald.

Researchers have pointed out that it isn't always clear whether it is the oxygen or carbon dioxide level which is playing the major role in these effects.

Research around the world has pointed out that there is little evidence for storage of stone fruits, although studies are being conducted on avocados, citrus, strawberries, bananas and pineapples.

Courts—A Weakness and A Strength

(James M. Kinney is editor of the Pope County Tribune, Glenwood, Minn., which took this stand in defense of the open legal system. His editorial is one of the finalists in annual judging by the International Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors.)

Since the decision of the U. S. supreme court reversing the conviction of Communist Party members who refused to register under the McCarran Act, the party is evidently going to take a more active role in politics in Minnesota and throughout the nation.

According to the words of Gu Hall, former Minnesota who is chairman of the Communist party in the United States, the court's decision in effect made the Communist party legal.

This is far from the truth, because the court's decision merely reaffirmed a legal tenet of long standing that a person cannot be compelled to testify against himself, which is what the McCarran Act for all practical purposes attempted to do.

Is this zealous protection of the rights of our individual citizens a weakness or a strength of the United States?

Barry M. Goldwater, who was the Republican party nominee for the presidency in the last election, said the court decision was the only proper one that it could make, and we agree.

But at the same time it galls us to realize that the Communist party, which is dedicated to the overthrow of our government by fair means or foul, is allowed to openly campaign against our form of government.

We frankly doubt that the Communist party will ever become a serious political force

In American politics even no restrictions are placed in its path.

And perhaps it's well that they are going to operate in the open, because then it will be a relatively simple matter to find out just who belongs, instead of engaging in clandestine activities to discover the same thing.

Our laws have always been one of the United States' strong-est cornerstones, because this is the basis of the law, and the law must protect the rights of everyone, regardless of their political affiliation.

When we protect the rights of the citizen in our courts, we must protect everyone, regardless of financial position or party politics.

This is the strength of the nation, and we hope that it will always be thus. Our laws are times work to our disadvantage, as in this case, but the reverse would be too great a price to pay to eradicate a nuisance.

If we in this nation have a worry about the political strength at the polls of the Communist party, then perhaps it's time that we examine our own system of government for serious defects.

When the Communist party can win enough votes at the polls to elect officials to office, then we definitely have something to worry about.

Our system of jurisprudence is still this nation's strength in spite of the boost it gave the Communist party.

Prompt Planning Needed to Utilize Initial, Future Federal Sewer Construction Grants

Approval of an initial $1,500,000 request bears out the belief that the federal government is willing to make large contributions to aid in remedying critical Granite City sewer needs. No time should be wasted in taking steps to make use of the funds that have been made available, and future grants.

It will be recalled that new Congressional legislation provides for 50% federal participation in sanitary-sewerage sewer separation and construction programs like that planned here in 1961.

Even though the needs have changed somewhat and construction costs have increased, the basic Granite City proposal is still sound. Slight revisions will be in order, but the plan has been found acceptable by Housing and Urban Development officials, putting Granite City far ahead of most other communities in the country.

For the $200 million appropriated for the July 1965-June 1967 period, and for subsequent funds.

Granite City has submitted multiple applications each based on a $3 million phase ($1,500,000 federal and $1,500,000 local) of the total program. Each dollar of federal money must be matched by local residents, but there is no specific ceiling.

Rather than pitting neighborhood against neighborhood in a series of sewer elections, each limited to $3 million worth of new sewers, the path of wisdom would seem to be a full-inclusive vote, authorizing the various portions to be carried out when and if matching funds are allocated in Washington. Election costs also would be greatly reduced by such a procedure.

Legal technicalities undoubtedly will need to be worked out, but it is noteworthy that St. Louis and St. Louis county have successfully followed the practice of voting on the full amount of bond issues, including parts not intended to be implemented immediately.

Exactly how much should be listed in the Granite City referendum remains to be decided, but it should be sufficient to meet all major sewer problems. Planning will need to start at once.

Changing Times Bringing Expansion Of Venice Area Railroad Facilities

As the oldest local municipality, 93-year-old Venice experienced much of its growth in past years and has had to be content more recently with a volume of new construction exceeded by other cities.

A refreshing reversal of this pattern is provided by the Norfolk & Western Railroad plan to expand its facilities in the Venice area. The railroad is planning to build a new freight yard and a new passenger station, and to upgrade its existing facilities.

The new freight yard will be located on the east side of the city, and will provide for the handling of bulk freight. The new passenger station will be located on the west side of the city, and will provide for the service of local and regional passenger trains.

The expansion of the railroad facilities in the Venice area is a significant development for the city, and will provide for the continued growth and development of the area.

Quad-Cities' Location, Services Attracting New, Former Residents

In the last issue we said "it's always greener in the other pasture" but that other states have local and state taxes comparable to or higher than those in Illinois.

The same point could be made about the Quad-City area. The subject is brought to mind by the return of families who had moved a few miles to the east a few years ago, but now prefer to reside locally.

Along with greater proximity to widely varied metropolitan amenities, the community provides a balanced tax base, and high caliber schools, parks and other facilities.

Those moving to the bluff area and beyond may be lured by the assumption that they are leaving behind all municipal problems, but they soon find poorer public services or higher residential taxes (due to the lack of taxes from industry), or both poorer services and higher taxes.

Just as the Quad-City area welcomes newcomers, it is happy to welcome back former residents who have sampled life in neighboring communities and found them wanting.

Word was received this month that bids will be sought in September or October to grade the four-mile distance from the present concrete pavement north of West Pontoon road to Niedringhaus avenue. Also scheduled for October are bids on construction of a traffic overpass at the Illinois Terminal Railroad tracks between the A. O. Smith Corp. plant and the local harbor.

The million-dollar project and overpass improvement is important not only in itself but also because it holds the key to paving all the way to Niedringhaus avenue, now scheduled for early 1968, and later extensions to Venice and East St. Louis.

With two-thirds of the right-of-way acquired, the remaining property due for court action this year, the bid openings slated for early fall, and full agreement reached on frontage road and fencing needs, much headway is being made toward solving a real need—a highway along the western edge of the Quad-Cities offering convenient access and providing links with the north, the south and the port shipping-manufacturing area.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA, Chairman, Board of Trustees, National Association of Investment Clubs

PAST PERFORMANCE AN INDICATION OF FUTURE

Q. Early this year, we drew $10,000 out of savings where we were getting 4% interest and invested it in a mutual fund, where we would receive $0 a month.

The first month they sold four shares to get the $60, so I went and told them we knew of the $50 if they had to sell our shares to get it. As a result, payments have been withheld until October.

We paid $10.80 per share, but now the price has dropped. This fund has had a good record in the past; do you think it will be a good investment in the future?

A. The fund you mention has been a good one of its particular type.

While you can never guarantee that the performance of the past will be repeated in the future, certainly past performance is one of the best ways we know of for judging the future of a fund.

Q. Ten years ago I bought a mutual fund at $11.96 and shortly thereafter it dropped to $7 or $8 and has never risen above $9.

Assessment List For
The Year 1966

Herewith is a list of real estate and personal property assessments as made by the township assessors of Namooki, Madison County, Illinois, and returned to George Musso, County Treasurer and Supervisor of Assessments.

The assessed values shown are subject to revision by the Board of Review and to equalization by the State Department of Revenue. Under provisions of Act 146 of the Illinois Revised Statutes as Amended in 1965, the Department of Revenue is required to determine the percentage relationship within each county of assessed value and the estimated full fair cash value. Upon the basis of such data, the Department is required to raise or lower the local assessed value so that all such property will be assessed at its full cash value.

These equalized values then become the basis for the extensions for 1966 taxes payable in 1967 and indicate the full fair cash value of the properties assessed, based on the assessed value as made by the local assessing officials.

This publication, which is made in accordance with Section 108 of the Revenue Act, serves as a public notice to the taxpayers of the county of the assessed values fixed upon the property by the township assessor of the aforesaid township.

Taxpayers who consider their property incorrectly assessed may appear before the board of review and file a written appeal on or before September 1, 1966, or within such time as otherwise provided in Sections 108 of the Revenue Act.

GEORGE MUSSO,
Supervisor of Assessments,
Madison County, Illinois.

2 Charges Filed After Parked Car Is Struck

Charles L. Cox, 24, of 2209 Miracle avenue was arrested by Madison police at 3:15 a.m. Saturday for reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. His auto allegedly hit a parked car at Third street and Madison avenue.

The parked auto, owned by James Ortiz, 1734 Poplar street, was damaged on the left side. A Madison patrolman said he saw Cox leaving the accident site and apprehended him. Cox was released on $35 cash bail until Aug. 24.

Driving Charge

Paul D. Ragdale, 21, of 2838 Cayuga street was charged with careless driving at 20th street and Edwardsville road at 10:30 p.m. yesterday. He is to appear by Aug. 26.

$500,000 Damage Suit Filed Against GC Firms

A half-million-dollar damage suit was filed Thursday in Madison county circuit court against firms and a crane manufacturer as the result of an injury by an employee during construction of South Roxana sanitary sewers on Sept. 24, 1964.

The plaintiff is Charles Schickler, who was a crane operator employed by Seebold Equipment Rental Co., one of the defendants.

Other defendants are A. H. Seebold Construction Co., contractor on the project, and Link Belt Spender Corp., Des Moines, Ia., manufacturer of the crane. The complaint alleges that a section of a boom collapsed on Schickler when operating the crane, knocking him to the ground and causing serious and permanent injuries.

It is charged that the contractors and manufacturer permitted the crane to be used in an unreasonably dangerous condition and that it lacked a safety device to prevent its collapse.

Bitten by Dog

Charles Croner, 12, of 1132 Market street, Venice, was bitten by a dog at 205 Weaver street. The owner of the dog was instructed to take it to a veterinarian for ten days' observation.

Truck Windshield Broken

John Nesbit, Mulberry Grove, Ill., reported at 3:40 p.m., Friday that while his 1966 truck was parked in the 1700 block of Mitchell avenue at 2 p.m. Thursday someone threw a rock through the windshield.

Medicare Medical Ins. Paid by Individual, U. S.

(This is the eleventh in a series of articles by Ralph Brasher, social security district manager in East St. Louis, on how Medicare works.)

The medical insurance program is financed by monthly premiums paid by those who sign up for this protection and by matching payments from general revenues of the federal government. The monthly premium rate (and the matching Government payment) will be $3 for each person enrolled, at least until 1968.

The law requires that the premium rates be examined every two years starting in 1967. If this examination shows that the premium rate, including the Government share, is not enough to cover the cost of the program for the next two years, the rate may be changed. The government would continue to pay half the cost.

The $3 premium will be deducted from your monthly checks. If you receive social security benefits, beginning with the check you receive at the beginning of the month your medical insurance protection begins.

If you are not receiving any of the above benefits, you will pay the premiums directly to the Social Security Administration or Railroad Retirement Board.

If you are eligible for social security benefits but are not getting monthly checks (for example, because of high earnings from work), you will be sent a premium notice telling you when to pay.

If you are not eligible for social security, railroad retirement or civil service benefits, you will receive a premium due notice for $9 every 3 months.

Can Pay Monthly
If necessary, you can arrange through the social security office to pay your premiums in monthly installments of $3 each. But, if you wish to pay premiums in advance, you may pay up to one year simply by increasing $3 for each additional month you wish to pay for.

A punchcard and return envelope for you to use in sending in the payment will be enclosed with the premium notice. Be sure to send in your payments promptly, and pay by personal check or money order instead of sending cash. And remember to return the punchcard with your payment. If you fail to send in your premium payments, your medical insurance coverage will be terminated, after reasonable notice.

In some states, people who are getting public assistance payments will have their medical insurance premiums paid by the state public assistance agency. If your medical insurance premiums will be paid this way and you have any questions about the premiums, you should talk with the people in your local public assistance office.

You are not under any obligation to continue your medical insurance coverage. If you wish to drop out of the medical insurance program, you may do so by giving written notice to the Social Security Administration during a general enrollment period.
